All in one store

1. Introduction

1.1 Project Summary

In day to day life, we will need to buy lots of goods or products from a shop. It may be food items, electronic items, house hold items etc etc. Now a days, it is really hard to get some time to go out and get them by ourselves due to busy life style or lots of works. In order to solve this, B2C E-Commerce websites have been started. Using these websites, we can buy goods or products online just by visiting the website and ordering the item online by making payments online.

All in one store is a website that provide to buy Home,Mobiles,Electronic,fresh,fashion item ,etc. it's Good/Trusted & Tension free delivery services. Products bought online will be delivered to the footsteps of the buyer free of cost(may be varied based on the vendor/seller).Reports generated can be saved for future references.

This existing system of buying goods has several disadvantages. It requires lots of time to travel to the particular shop to buy the goods. Since everyone is leading busy life now a days, time means a lot to everyone. Also, there are expenses for travelling from house to shop. More over the shop from where we would like to buy something may not be open 24*7*365. Hence, we have to adjust our time with the shopkeeper's time or vendor's time.

In order to overcome these, we have e-commerce solution, i.e., one place where we can get all required goods/products online. The proposed system helps in building a website to buy, sell products or goods online using internet connection. Purchasing of goods online, user can choose different products based on categories, online payments, delivery services and hence covering the disadvantages of the existing system and making the buying easier and helping the vendors to reach wider market.

2. Scopes & Planning

2.1 Requirement Analysis

To develop any web application system, it is most important to identify the user requirement in very specific manner. Also to function properly, all interfaces of proposed system with surrounding system must be identified. The correct system is that satisfied all users requirement. Therefore, it is very important to analyse the existing system and to document the software requirement specification for proposed system which in turn provides the base for development of the proposed system.

Our project guide conducted a series of lectures to impart us the required knowledge about the system. During the lectures, we also had question and answer session at the end, which helped us to have a clear idea about the Expected system.

Fact Gathering Techniques:

Fact –finding is the job of a person or group of person in administrative proceedings that has or have the responsibility of determining the facts relevant to decide a controversy. The term trier of fact gathering denotes the same function the process is an extremely important part of the communication process.

They are:

- 1) Interviewing
- 2) Questionnaires
- 3) Records inspection
- 4) Observation

Interviewing:

- This method is used to collect the information from groups or individuals. Analyst selects the people who are related with system for the interview.
- In this method the analyst sits face to face with the people and records their responses.
- All basic requirements are conducted at this stage.
- It is a basic source of qualitative information.

All in one store

Questionnaires:

- It is the technique used to extract information from number of people. This method can be adopted and used only by an skillful analyst.
- The questionnaires consists of series of question framed together in logical manner
- In this, we get all information related to student fees collects related information.
- Gathering some data.

Record Review:

- Records review is used to revise all the requirements before implementation.
- Here we revise all systems requirements like design & view of system facilities ,policies , terms & condition ,time-duration and all .
- Background reading or research is a part of the process.

Observation:

- Unlike the other fact finding techniques, in this method the analyst himself visits the organization and observe and understand the flow of documents, working of existing System, the user of the system.
- At this stage, we consider all design & data related information like how to shows our form, which kind of interface gives to user & going with all this.

Conclusion of fact finding technique :

- I am use observation technique.
- I use all above for technique to find and gathering information related to system but I use most observation technique.

- User , which products are brought, can download invoice .

2.2 Feasibility Study

- This activity is design to help to do initial operational, technical, schedule & economic feasibility evaluation of the project and also practice these three approaches to cost benefit analysis knowledge of cost benefit analysis is critical for a successful systems analyst and also for anyone who must decide whether or not to approve a project. It is the measure of how beneficial or practical the development of information system will be to an organization.

Technical feasibility

- It is measure of practicality of a specific technical solution and the availability of technical resources and expertise. All the software needed for developing the project are like sublime with php, MySQL are already available so the system is technically Feasible.
- Technical feasibility center on the existing manual system of the test management process and to what extent it can support the system.
- According to feasibility analysis procedure the technical feasibility of system is analyzed and the technical requirements such as software
- Facilities, procedure, inputs are identified. It is also one of the important phases of the system development activities.
- The system offers greater levels of user friendliness combined with greater processing speed. Therefore, the cost of maintenance can be reduced.

5.Conclusion

- Technology has made significant progress over the years to provide consumers a better online shopping experience and will continue to do so for years to come. With the rapid growth of products and brands, people have speculated that online shopping will overtake in-store shopping.
- While this has been the case in some areas, there is still demand for brick and mortar stores in market areas where the consumer feels more comfortable seeing and touching the product being bought. However, the availability of online shopping has produced a more educated consumer that can shop around with relative ease without having to spend a large amount of time.
- In exchange, online shopping has opened up doors to many small retailers that would never be in business if they had to incur the high cost of owning a brick and mortar store. At the end, it has been a win-win situation for both consumer and sellers.
